

Matt Brouwer

"Unlearning"

Visit "Unlearning" on MotoLyrics.com

Has anybody ever gotten down
From this picture perfect high back to solid ground
And lived to tell what they had seen from up there
How everything looks different from way up in the air

We're going deeper if we dare
Flying higher to anywhere

Has anybody ever gotten down
To the depths below the surface to see what can be found
Among the broken lives and honesty
Well, can you find a place there for me

Going deeper if we dare
Flying higher to anywhere

Can you take these empty handed dreams
And turn them into purer things
Can you make me better than I am

Of all the stories we've ever been told
Deconstructing lines from a century ago
Well, of those words which ones are really true
I have got a question or two

Going deeper, will you try
Flying higher tonight

If all I knew was make-believe
I'm reaching out for you to save me now
Can you save me now
Will all these scenes bleed into one
And tell of all that's yet to come
Oh, what have we become, what have we become

©2003 Made Music
(admin. by Brentwood-Benson Music Publishing)

