You were right
I was up all night thinking about you
Dreamed I choked
On your kaleidoscope, they still look deadly

My fatal flower
How the tigers all laughed
As I ran along the well-worn path

The sapphire eye looks
Down on my lilacs, down on my lilacs
Down on my lilacs, down on me
Down on me, down on

In sincere
As we rolled for years in turning barrels
I washed my hands in the lake
As she blew it all away with Roman candles

So take your fever
Let me wallow alone
The callous on your eyes have grown

The sapphire eye looks
Down on my lilacs, down on my lilacs
Down on my lilacs, down on me
Down on me, down on

And your faults have me stoned
Paying rent to your ghost
Torn up by a frightened little girl
I thought that you were right
So I was up all night thinking about you

I thought you were right
You were right, you were right
You were

You were right
And I was up all night thinking about you
And I couldn't speak
Covered with bees, you flew above me

Figure it all out
I think you've had enough time
I've had long enough to change my mind

The sapphire eye looks
Down on my lilacs, down on my lilacs
Down on my lilacs, down on me
Down on me, down on

And your faults have me stoned
Paying rent to your ghost
Torn up by a frightened little girl
I thought that you were right
And I was up all night thinking about you

You were right
So I was up all night thinking about you
I thought you were right
You were right, you were right
You were
