Early in the morning clouds are dropping on my head Remind me the things, last night, I should have left unsaid
So please forgive the words I use, my mind it tends to run
Away with the small ideas, I know, I'm not the only one

So dear, oh dear
My head it tends to stray away, sometimes I can't see clear
Oh dear, oh dear
In spite of all the things I said, I always want you near

Sometimes it rains, sometimes it pours Sometimes I'm not that sure But anytime you look at me
Your thoughts, I can't ignore

The second hand would pass us by Should one of us had blinked
But in a minute realize That true love always waits

My dear, oh dear
My head it tends to stray away, sometimes I can't see
clear
Oh dear, oh dear
In spite of all the things I said, I always want you near

Early in the morning clouds are dropping on my head
Remind me the things last night, I should have left
run
Away with the small ideas, I know, I'm not the only one
