You're walkin' along the street, or you're at a party,
Or else you're alone and then you suddenly dig,
You suddenly realize, you're looking' in someone's eyes
That this could be the start of something big.

You're lunching at Twenty-One and watchin' your diet,
Declining a charlotte russe, accepting a fig,
When out of a clear blue sky, it's suddenly gal and guy,
And this could be the start of something big.

There's no controlling the unrolling of your fate, my friend,
Who knows what's written in the magic book.
But when a lover you discover at the gate my friend,
Invite her in without a second look.

You're up in an aeroplane or dining at Sardi's,
Or lying at Malibu alone on the sand,
You suddenly hear a bell, and right away you can tell
That this could be the start of something grand.

You're just a lover you discover in a frightening flash
So keep your hideaway both night and day
Because the mating maybe fleeting as a lightning flash
And you don't want to let it slip away

There's no controlling the unrolling of your fate, my
friend,
Who knows what's in that magic book.
But when a lover you discover at the gate my friend,
Invite her in without a second look.

You're up in an aeroplane or dining at Sardi's,
Or lying at Malibu alone on the sand,
You suddenly hear a bell, and right away you can tell
That this could be the start of something grand.
This could be the start of something grand.
