I left the house last week
Not sure if I locked the door
Get on the plane and let the words go
I'm laying in the sun
Watching waves roll to the shore
I'm drinking bohitos in Mexico
Meanwhile everybody zoom zoom zoom
And the music was playing boom boom boom
There was a party back at home in my living room
And now they found the key to the cabinet with my booze
Neighbors complained but I didn't know
The cops came but I didn't know
It was insane but I didn't know
One thing I know should've locked the door

It was a sweet little holiday
Now I gotta get back to reality
I hope that everything is safe and sound back at home
I wanna call my friends and tell them everything I did
Why is no one picking up their telephone
Everybody zoom zoom zoom
And the music was playing boom boom boom
And now the party's moving out to the swimming pool
And now the fire ran out of my deluxe barbeque
Neighbors complained but I didn't know
The cops came but I didn't know
It was insane but I didn't know
One thing I know should've locked the door

The channel 6 news put it on their show
The cops came again I didn't know
To fix my house I'm gonna need a loan
And next time gonna lock the door

I can home
(How does people, drunken people)
What is this
(In my household, broken household)
Where's the couch
(And my TV, my poor TV)

What am I to do
And oh my gosh they ate all of my food
And why is there a big hairy man sleeping in my bedroom
Neighbors complained but I didn't know
The cops came but I didn't know
It was insane but I didn't know
One thing I know should've locked the door

The channel 6 news put it on their show
The cops came again I didn't know
To fix my house I'm gonna need a loan
And next time gonna lock the door
And next time gonna lock the door
