We're over, nothing, over, nothing

Darling I haven't missed you even once
In fact babe without you, I'm having way more fun
Cause living with you, like looking at the barrel of a gun
Yeah, your smile could crack your face, you look down at everyone

Thank God,
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
Because you're evil, because you're evil, yeah, because you're evil
Oh, you're evil

Your made to make a man just feel regret
Of your love I roll the dice and lost the bet
If I'm Blackjack, then you're Russian Roulette
You're the only person in my life I wish I hadn't met

Thank God
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
Because you're evil, because you're evil, oh, you're evil
Oh yeah, you're evil

You will never be part of my life, I know, I know
If you think that I will miss you one day, I won't, I won't

Thank God
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
We're over, we're over, and nothing could make it right
Because you're evil, you're evil, oh, evil
Because you're evil (repeat)
