One lost friend said one day
Protect direction that you found Now I'm 30 000 feet up Shaken violently around

Nobody knows me that well, That's just the way it's gotta be
This flight attendant's got me stoned
I wanna tell her everything about me

And she could come with me,
Through the days and weeks and months and passin years

long gone
lost in flight
I should've never of leaved ya
I think you knew that I might Tonight I miss my babe
And the midnight song will sing
I can't go back now
And the sunset shines off the silver waves

This bullshit airline's got me down
It's no earthly good to me Just get me where I need to go kerisble? or Mexico
The national post front page said
George W. Bush is dead
And the jays beat the reds 10 million people broken-hearted disappear for love

passin years

lost in flight
I should've never of leaved ya
I think you knew that I might
Tonight I miss my babe

And the midnight song will sing
I can't go back now
And the sunset shines off the silver waves (x4)

And the song in my head sings
