Please tell me baby, it's not a mistake
Please tell me baby, it's not a mistake
I'm an honest man, I know how to wait
So please tell me baby, it's not a mistake

There is no language for how I feel
There is no language for how I feel
When I look at you standing there, none of this seems real
There is no language for how I feel

'Cuz we're looking for a way to make it better
Looking for a way to change the weather
Whether you or I survive tonight
I promise you that I will love you like
We're gonna live forever

There ain't nothing that could change my mind
There ain't nothing that could change my mind
Let the tower fall, I'll play the fool
And leave everything behind
There ain't nothing that could change my mind

'Cuz we're looking for a way to make it better
Looking for a way to change the weather
Whether you or I survive tonight
I promise you that I will love you like
We're gonna live forever

When everything breaks open
And everything breaks down
Wider and wider the spaces between
We look in the dark and wonder
Does it make sense to start now
We're all alive
Hold the line

'Cuz we're looking for a way to make it better
Looking for a way to change the weather
Whether you or I survive tonight
I promise you that I will love you like
We're gonna live forever

(Lookin' for a way)

Whether you or I survive tonight
I promise you that I will love you like
We're gonna live forever
