You tried to keep me warm, I was falling through the sky

You whispered to me, baby, hold on tight
And I was starting wars, saying my good-byes
Still you never took your hand from mine

And all the stars above our heads
Faster they came, faster they went
All the stars above our heads

Spin you 'round
Through the roar of this crowd tonight, tonight
I'll dance you 'round
Through the bones of this town until daylight comes

Hope, hope will put the colors in the sky
Hope, hope will set this world of wrong to right, to right
Love comes tumbling down

Cities made of stone sinking in the flood
And all the people wait around to rust

All the stars above our heads
Faster they came, faster they went
In all the stars we lose ourselves

Spin you 'round
Through the roar of this crowd tonight, tonight
I'll dance you 'round
Through the bones of this town until daylight comes

Hope, hope will put the colors in the sky
Hope, hope will set this world of wrong to right, to right
Love comes tumbling down

When did we, when did we get so careful?
Oh love, when did we, when did we lose ourselves?
Afraid we fade, we fade out
When did we, when did we get so careful?
Love

Spin you 'round
Through the roar of this crowd tonight, tonight
(Spin you 'round)
I'll dance you 'round
Through the bones of this town until daylight comes (Dance you 'round)

Hope, hope will put the colors in the sky
Hope, hope will set this world of wrong to right, to right
(Then love comes)
Love comes tumbling down
(As love, as love)
Love comes tumbling down

All the stars above my head
Faster they came, faster they went
