

Matt Nathanson

"Somewhere To Hide"

Visit "Somewhere To Hide" on MotoLyrics.com

She said "come along with me, I've got offerings for you my sweet, sweet boy" she promised warmth too, but I knew better her words broke hot against my neck and tasting the sweet, sweet numb of regret on my lips I filled my pockets and closed the door and I tasted all I'd left behind, then shameful I crawled naked Searching for somewhere to hide And in the end she said it was memorable and comfortable but funny, I wouldn't have used those words the secrecy and her bed, it was choking me with a knot in my gut you have beautiful empty eyes, I'm sure of that much Oh princess open your eyes and close your mouth else all that spite you swallow willingly , it just might fall out and I've seen you smile wide, I've seen you at your best and it left me feeling sick inside and unimpressed and I tasted all I'd left behind, but shameful I crawled naked

Searching for somewhere to hide

Visit Matt Nathanson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.