There's an angel waiting in the shadows
Behind that big black window watching over me.
Now I'm able to waltz through violent nightmares
Of prison time and bomb scares
To kiss you on the cheek

I thought I lost it all the day that I lost you
It's taken me until just now to find the truth.
You've always been here haven't you?

There's a stranger inside of me named anger
He worked for me but danger was your middle name
Now I'm able to waltz through violent daymares
Of killing sprees and bomb scares
To kiss you on the cheek

I thought I lost it all the day that I lost you.
It's taken me until just now to find the truth.
Oh I thought I lost it all the day that I lost you
It's taken me until just to find the truth.
You've always been here haven't you?
