I woke up from a dream, I could've sworn I heard the phone Fan's blowin' in the corner like it does when she's at home
Familiar desperate feelin', always cold and dark inside I'll probably sit here hopin' soon that she'll be by my side

Yeah, I saw her smile that chased the blues away
Her warmth will make it all okay
'Cause it's one to go and one to stay, I guess it has to be that way
I found my kindred spirit, now she's with me as I sleep
And it's in her hands, up to her where she'll put my soul
to keep Soul to keep, yeah

Out there in the hard world tryin' to blend into the day
A thousand different faces stare, I try to look away but,
I Can feel her move within me and her voice is in my head
With that in mind I seem to find a way back home again

Yeah, I saw her smile that chased the blues away
Her warmth will make it all okay
'Cause it's one to go and one to stay, I guess it has to be that way
I found my kindred spirit, now she's with me as I sleep
And it's in her hands, up to her where she'll put my soul
to keep
Soul to keep, yeah, soul to keep, yeah

Soul to keep, soul to keep
