You say you want something rational
You say you need the cold hard facts

Do you realize
How far you've strayed from truth
In your quest for Your rational proof

Song for the irrational
Song for the irrational
Song for the irrational

Cause you say you want something rational
And you say you need miraculous signs

Excuse me if i'm the one who's been mistaken here
But your logic seems to be a bit unclear

Song for the irrational
Song for the irrational
Song for the irrational

Has what I've shown slipped past your oh so blurred eyes
Has my soft touch not calmed those oh so vicious lies

Song for the irrational
Song for the irrational
Song for the irrational
