Just take my home
Please don't look on, we're hanging
It feels like you're tearing me to pieces
How much I wished you'd used to hang out

I wanna taste these songs from your sweet lips
Leave behind this lonely place
'Cause your tomorrow world's in our planning
Would it ever be the same?

Don't go chasing dreams that you can't follow
Because I'll be there
I swear you'll be home this time tomorrow
Knowing I'll be there, 'cause, I'll be there

My heaven is filled with memories
Of all that we've been through
Now I realize the emptiness of spaces
I create the way for you

And don't go chasing dreams that you can't follow
Because I'll be there
I swear you'll be home this time tomorrow
Knowing I'll be there, 'cause, I'll be there

And don't go chasing dreams that you can't follow
Because I'll be there
I swear you'll be home this time tomorrow
Knowing I'll be there

Will you walk away, will you walk away?
Will you walk away and feel the same?
Feel the same, will you feel the same?

Because I'll be there
Because I'll be there
'Cause, I'll be there
