A new mystery in a circle of friends. They are eager to understand him.
So this is the generation of the unashamed.
Fear is absent in question;
It's almost like a test of reason.
Soon the men's curiosity will be done, but women's will have just begun;
Yet the need to know changes to a more accepting place.
Subjects change yet quickly re-center themselves...
The women experience comfort and ease, letting themselves go to him.
He will hold us in his infinite security.
Absolute ecstasy.
A few moments of this shared state in passing time...
Is it a sin?
The mind scolds emotions and the discussion immediately ends.
The girls rise and hurry to embrace their boyfriends.
They need to be forgiven.
For they just let a complete stranger touch their soul
