You cannot be certain,
You cannot be sure.
All those times that I took for granted left me wanting more.
Now that I've awoken,
I'm ready to adore
Though my heart is broken I'm wiser than before.

Won't somebody tell me where is love?
I know when I see her face,
She will soon replace the pain that I've uncovered.
Where is Love?
And why does it hurt so much?
And will I measure up if I get to hold her?
The angel on my shoulder.

You can be disheartened,
Made a fool again.
You can't see the future,
And who knows how this ends.
Now I hear you calling,
The dance has just begun.
Head and heels I'm falling are you gonna be the one?

Won't somebody tell me where is love?
I know when I see her face,
She will soon replace the pain that I've uncovered.
Where is Love?
And why does it hurt so much?
And will I measure up if I get to hold her?
The angel on my shoulder.

Tell dem already but we tell dem again.
Tell dem already but we tell dem again,
How she left me and she gaan her way.
She left me and she gaan her way.

Tell dem already but we tell dem again.
Tell dem already but we tell dem again,
How she left me and she gaan her way.
She left me and she gaan her way.

Won't somebody tell me where is love?
I know when I see her face,
She will soon replace the pain that I've uncovered.
Where is Love?
And why does it hurt so much?
And will I measure up if I get to hold her?
The angel on my shoulder.

She left me and she gaan her way.
She left me and she gaan her way.

The angel on my shoulder.

She left me and she gaan her way.
She left me and she gaan her way.
