There's more to love than boy meets girl

There' s more to love than boy meets girl.
For love is strange and uncontrolled
it can happen to anyone

There's more to love than boy meets girl.

I would like to shout it from the highest mountain
To tell the world I've found love and what it means to me.
But all around there's violence and laws
to make me think again

Maybe one day they will understand.

There's more to love than boy meets girl

...

I saw your face
it caught the light

infatuation swirls inside

My every thought for days was only you.
So I'll climb that mountain and shout it loud

I'll never let them bring me down

And one day they will have to understand.

There's more to love than boy meets girl. (9 x)
