"Born To Kill"

There's a big beat
You're spinning in my TV
A magician, the antidote
So I'm with him

Floating, loaded enough to be released
Floating, loaded enough to be released

It's more than the less you say you do
It's more than the shot that gets you through
Born to buy into something, born to kill

There's a big beat
You're sleeping in my memory
Like Satan, lonely
So I'm with him

Floating, loaded enough to be released
Floating, loaded enough to be released
Floating, loaded enough to be released

It's more than the less you say you do
It's more than the shot that gets you through
Born to buy into something, born to kill

It's more than the less you say you do
It's more than the shot that gets you through
Born to buy into something, born to kill
