He snuck out of the city
The night it had come early
She always used to say
Life's a dirty business

So why not do it
While the world's in bed
And there's a fake part of me
That comes off, so you can read

I was made by the Taiwanese in Taiwan
But they don't like that much
Because it's called Formosa
He snuck into the city

The dawn it had come early
She always used to say
Life's a dirty business
So just be a prick and do it while
The world's awake
