I heard terrible, terrible news today. Somebody pushed a button and blew my mind away, It's terrible, terrible news. Is anybody listening, does anybody care. This town is full of liars and their everywhere.

You and I have both been through this, holding on to broken promises. Grow up boy and learn, is all they ever say. Here they come more pie in the sky. Out stretched hand and twinkle in his eye. Giving you the world just to take it back again.

I heard terrible, terrible news today. Somebody pulled a trigger and blew my mind away, It's terrible, terrible news. Is anybody listening, does anybody care. This world is full of liars and their everywhere. all around the world is raging. With out love our hate is waging war against our own. Why won't people learn. Surfing through the TV stations listening to the explanations of why we're all so lost. Here's a pill to numb the brain, just sit down you'll feel no pain. You can trust me, Thats how it must be The truth is a lie and love is hate war is peace there's no debate. Now that you know, Enjoy the freak show.

You and I have both been through this, holding on to broken promises. Grow up boy and learn, is all they ever say. Here they come more pie in the sky. Out stretched hand and twinkle in his eye. Giving you the world Giving me the world Giving me the world It's Terrible Terrible News
