There's a songbird that sings
By the kitchen window in the spring
Hear him sing.
He is summoning all
God's bands of angels marching tall
To come take you home.

Goodnight in the morning
There's new life around the bend
Close your eyes, no more disease to fight
Ease your mind

So the love of your life
Came and went without ever saying goodbye
No more goodbyes.
He'll be waiting for you
By the doorway and all you have to do
Is step inside.

Goodnight in the morning
There's new life around the bend
Close your eyes, no more disease to fight
Ease your mind

All is quiet inside
Light is dancing off rivers running wild
Peaceful and wide.
Endless angels they loom,
It's always springtime, it never turns to June
Forever in bloom.

Goodnight in the morning
There's new life around the bend
Close your eyes, no more disease to fight
Ease your mind
