Everything is perfect in a way
But not today
What could tomorrow bring?

Even when I beg you
Will you please be good to me?
You're running free
Just make believe you love me
And I'll try harder than before
'cause it's a real love
That keeps us coming back for more

(if anything) anything I question can be used Against my will
And it will be 'til you

Understand the question is
A cup that cannot be filled
By what you feel
I'll make believe I love you
And I'll try harder than before
'cause it's a real love
That keeps us coming back for more

Just make believe you love me
And I'll try harder than before
'cause it's a real love
That keeps us coming back for more
