You could change your mind forever
You could change your style of dress
You could find another lover
But you'll never find love
You will never find love
You could swear you'd never lived here
Forget you knew my name
You could find another lover
But you'll never find love
Not like this, no
You will never find love

SOLO

As the days begin to pass us
And the nights will pretend to flow
And you're with some other lover
Will you tell him who I was
Will you ever find love
Will you find another lover
Will you ever find love
Not like this, baby
No you'll never find love
Not like this, baby
No you'll never find love...
