What a beautiful moment, the truth comes out at last.
Once your heart would own me forever, then this passed.

And what a beautiful moment, as my head comes apart.

Drunk, and in a manner of saying, wasted.

'Cause you don't love me, you don't love me.
You can't see how I matter in this world,
even though I love you, you can't believe that.
If you find something you think might make you happy
then I guess it's OK, I think it's OK
if you go away.

Blown right out of my senses, I did not know know what to do.

Lost, and badly wanting someone to see me through.
That's why I needed you.

But you don't love me, you don't love me.
You can't see how I matter in this world,
even though I loved you, you can't believe that.
You think that leaving is what will make you happy,
then I guess it's OK, I think it's OK,
if you go away.

'Cause you don't love me, you don't love me.
You can't see how I matter in this world,
even though I loved you, you can't believe that.
You think that leaving is what will make you happy,
then I guess it's OK, I think it's OK,
if you go away.

'Cause you don't love me, you don't love me.
You don't love me, you don't love me.
