I know a girl who's growing up too fast
She's stuck between her future and her past
'Cause she's just a baby but the doctors say
She's got a baby on the way

And now the devastation makes her start to cry
How could this be happening, she wonders why
But they're talking options like it's just another day
And the choice is hers to make

But there's a life inside you
And there's a beating heart
And there's a child of wonder
Shining like a star
There's a life inside you

I know a boy who's all caught up
In his addictions and they're tearing him up
And now he's, he's hearing voices, telling him it's time to let go
But if I could talk to that boy, I would die for him to know

There's a life inside you
Well, there's a beating heart
And there's a child of wonder
Shining like a star

There's a life inside you
(Open up, open up your broken heart, open up)
There's a life inside you
(Feel the life, feel the life inside, feel the life)

We all arrive here in this place, imperfect people in need of grace
But that's why God sent his only Son to die
So that every broken heart could have a life inside
So just open up your broken heart

And can you feel it?
There's a life inside you
There's a beating heart

And there's a child of wonder
Shining like a star
There's a life inside you

There's a life inside you
And there's a beating heart
And there's a child of wonder
Shining like a star
There's a life inside

Open up your broken heart
(Open up, open up your broken heart)
And feel the life inside
(Open up, open up your broken heart)

So open up your broken heart
(Open up, open up your broken heart)
And feel the life inside
(Feel the life, feel the life inside)
