Everybody's doin' it
Everybody's goin' out tonight
All your friends are feelin' it
Whatever it is that makes you feel all right

Everybody knows that anythin' goes
And everything you want
Well is just across the line
Step into the flow, go all the way tonight

Don't believe the lie, don't buy in
To what they sell you
It'll only make you cry, I've been there
And I'm here to tell you

What you got inside your soul
Deep down you know the truth won't hide
Don't believe the lie
Don't believe the lie

Here comes the morning sun
Shining down on what you've done
And all you feel is empty
And you don't know why it felt like so much fun

Here comes that voice again
And is acting like your friend
With a whisper in your ear
"You fell too far this time"

Don't believe the lie, don't buy in
To what they sell you
It'll only make you cry, I've been there
And I'm here to tell you

What you got inside your soul
Deep down you know
The truth won't hide
Don't believe the lie
No, don't believe the lie, yeah

Like a thief it will come to steal

And kill and destroy
Oh, but you don't have to let it take your joy
Anymore

Oh no, you were meant for so much more than this
You were meant for so much more than this
I promise this, I promise this
You were meant for so much more
So don't give in, no don't give in
When you stand your ground you won't stand alone

Don't believe the lie, don't buy in
To what they sell you
It'll only make you cry, oh, I've been there
And I'm here to tell you

What you got inside your soul
Deep down you know
The truth won't hide
So don't believe the lie
Oh, no, no, no, no, no, no
Don't believe the lie, yeah

You were meant for so much more than this
You were meant for so much more than this
I promise this, I promise this
You were meant for so much more
