

Maudlin Of The Well

"Undine And Underwater Flowers"

Visit "Undine And Underwater Flowers" on MotoLyrics.com

The waves speak quietly to me
When the tempest sleeps deep beneath.
I wish that I could give to you
The sun before it weds the west.
My tears mingle soft with the sea
Though I dream that you could taste them.
Lay with me our bridal bed
Dance a moonlit path thereon
Lay with me above the dead
That drift with tides kiss upon.
My undine beauty, thou hast seen
The coral kingdoms, silence, peace
The moon and stars I would forsake
To gaze into thy starry eyes
The azure sky seems not so deep
As azure oceans, amidst sleep.

Visit Maudlin Of The Well page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.