You passed before me, my mind promptly stopped,
You came toward me, my heart almost popped,
You flashed your smile and I felt weak in my knees.
(That's your effect on me)

By flashing that smile you've just made my day,
and then my legs started going your way,
I leant to your ears and asked for your name.
You-You said: "It's Angel, babe."

Chorus:

All you had to say: "It's Angel, babe."
My heartbeat was like ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh.
She opened her heart and I saw my peace,
Harmony in my life, my destiny.
She smiled at me, I know I was lost again.
(That's her effect on me)

By flashing that smile she's just made my day,
so again I started going her way,
I wanted her one more time to say her name.
And she said: "It's Angel, babe."
