Never believed in a message received from my lover tonight

A message that says: Goodbye
I need my rest and I'm sure you'll be alright Despite our quarrels I thought for once and always I'm caught in your web of lies and conspiracy.
Behind your sweet masquerade is nothing more than a fake

I'm nothing more than your casualty.

We made a good start and I know in my heart
that I won't give you up

Though your world and mine are so hard to combine

But I'll fight for your love.
What's going on in your mind what is it you wanna find

Won't you wake up from your fantasy?
You're always running around looking for clues to be found

Wake up and face the reality.
Roadrunner
run to a place they can find you

Escape from the future escape from the past.
Roadrunner
watch all the people behind you

Search for the world where you'll find peace at last.
We made a good start and I know in my heart
that I won't give you up

...

Roadrunner
run to a place they can find you
