here come the critics oh
to tear your heart wide open here come the lawyers
billions for phone conversation

you got some talent kid
you're really going places i've heard it many times from all the empty faces

don't talk to strangers

my mona lisa early sunday morning i find you so incredibly boring

i've heard it so many times from all you pretty faces
