Let us go
Let us watch the sun go down while the world explodes
Million parts
Billion lovers trying to find the way to mars
Hold my hand
Let us watch the sun go down while we still can
And all the parts
They just float around while we go back to start

While we go back to start

Close the door
You can never be too sure
That I really am the one
I'm pretty sure the love will soon be gone
Very strange
How everything here seems to change
They tell me that I am confused
They tell me that I play a game I'm bound to loose

Let us go
Let us watch the sun go down while the world explodes
Million parts
Billion lovers trying to find the way to mars
Hold my hand
Let us watch the sun go down while we still can
And all the parts
They just float around while we go back to start

While we go back to start

While we go back to start

Throw the dice
I wake up and I realize
That we're about to lose the race
While there is the million lovers up in space
Cool as ice
They are ignoring good advice
And even now through all the tears
I hope that we can go on for a million years

Beautiful
Everything is beautiful
Beautiful
Beautiful
Beautiful

Let us go
Let us watch the sun go down while the world explodes
Million parts
Billion lovers trying to find the way to mars
Hold my hand
Let us watch the sun go down while we still can
And all the parts
They just float around while we get back to start

While we go back to start

While we go back to start

While we go back to start
