Where do this tears come from
they belong to the eyes of gods.

Where do this tears come from
they belong to the eyes of gods.
Athens gets white, the satellites are surprised.

And the seasons change the cities...
the cities drive the people back and forward.
the seasons change

Weather reports are always wrong technologies and new communications cannot decide what's going to happen and Athens gets white, the satellites are surprised.

And the seasons change the cities...
the cities drive the people back and forward.
the seasons change.

the seasons change
the seasons change
the seasons change

And the seasons change the cities...
the cities drive the people back and forward.
the seasons change.
