You can cry yourself a river
Tend ya gunna miss her
Tell her that you love her
Wrap your self around her
Little bitty finger your hearts pulled the trigger
Now you're all alone and it's no body's fault but you own
Oh you baby's going home

You can pave the way for a brand new day
You can shut the world behind round you
Hide your f ace where no one finds you
And now you know
Oh your baby's going home

It's a shame you never take the blame
It's a shame you let her get away

You can cry yourself a river
Tend ya gunna miss her
Tell her that you love her
Wrap your self around her
Little bitty finger your hearts pulled the trigger
own

Every smile you see reminds you what a fool you've been
Cause every heart you've ever broken
You never seen with one eye open
But now you know
That your baby's going home

It's a shame you never like the rain
It's a shame you let her get away
It's a shame you never take the blame
It's a shame your chance has gone again

You can cry yourself a river
Tend ya gunna miss her

Tell her that you love her
Wrap your self around her
Little bitty finger your hearts pulled the trigger
own

Now every night when you're holding yourself tight beside the phone
She's not comin home
Now you're on your own
Oh your baby's going home

You can cry yourself a river
own

Now you're on your own
