Your life, it's a misery
You just keep walking along despite the pain you see Life is a bitch, ain't she Don't waste your time no more and get away with me

Nowhere you want to go
Only a maze of spaces you used to know You're caught in a special On your own hate and love it's no one else's fault
Why waste your time on hate
Why don't you enchant your life with love
Why waste your time on hate
Why don't you enchant your life with love

You get away with it
The grip may slip from me
Can you live in the shadows
when there's no light in your life
Man, you are just a dud
Your life is like a ladder you need to step it up
Your face just shows frowns Can't make the difference
if your life is right or upside down

You shouldn't waste your time no more Or trying to pretend what still'd be in your life
You know you need to move on
But as the grip may slip, the ride might not go on
Why waste your time on hate
Why don't you enchant your life with love
Why waste your time on hate
Why don't you enchant your life with love

You get away with it
The grip may slip from me
Can you live in the shadows
when there's no light in your life

You stick your finger to it
While you keep living with it
How can you live in the shadows
when there's no light in your life
You get away with it
The grip may slip from it
Can you live in the shadows
when there's no light in your life

You stick your finger to it
While you keep living the dead
How can you live in the shadows
when there's no light in your life
