In the souless valley
Where the storm from south sends the people inside

Dead appliers
Kills the awkward silence
Yeah we're four generations all run to the world
Woah, when it starts to pour

Yeah, we touch the rain
When it starts to fall
Get out and touch the rain
When it starts to fall
Get out we touch the rain
You gotta chase the storm
Get out and touch the rain

You spend a lifetime waiting
Tomorrow chasing
With a cracked open shell of somebody you love

In the graveyard hour
We strive to taste the power
It's those gods crying out for you to touch the tears
Woah, when it starts to pour

(sing!)
Yeah, we touch the rain
When it starts to fall
Get out and touch the rain
When it starts to fall
Get out we touch the rain
You gotta chase the storm
Get out and touch the rain

Ay oh oh oh oh ay (x16)

(when it starts to pour)
Yeah, we touch the rain
When it starts to fall
Get out and touch the rain
When it starts to fall

Get out we touch the rain
You gotta chase the storm
Get out and touch the rain
