The second i close my eyes is the second i see your face but the daydreams arent good enough imagination cant take your place and to say that im missin you is to tell only part of the heart the truth there's no way to deny that im dying inside i've got nothing left to loose

(chorus)

There is only one emotion to feel cause theres only one emotion thats real its only natural you should be in my arms theres only one... one emotion

But im taking it day by day and im pretending im doing okay so i cry in the rain to hide the tears and the pain girl please tell me we can start again oh baby

There is only one emotion to feel
cause theres only one emotion thats real
its only natural you should be in my arms

And it feels like im losing a part of myself you're the only one i'll ever love dont want nobody else

There is only one emotion to feel
its only natural you should be in my arms cause theres only one emotion to feel and theres only one emotion thats real its only natural you should be in my arms
theres only one... one emotion theres only one... only one one emotion theres only one cause the second i close my eyes
