"Fine Tuning"

You better open your eyes wide, it's all here
You been too long on the inside
Time to try some fine tuning, focus in if you can
You better open your eyes now

Better seen as they say, there's just no way
I'm falling for all of that
Just leave your things at the door and nothing more
But take what you can

The sun better open your eyes wide 'cause it's all clear
You been too long on the inside
Time to try some fine tuning, focus in if you can
You better open your eyes now

Better seen as they say, there's just no way
I'm falling for all of that
Just leave your things at the door and nothing more
But take what you can

There's one small problem I see, I disagree
Falling for all of that
Just leave your brain at the door and nothing more
But take what you can

Better seen as they say, there's just no way
I'm falling for all of that
There's just one problem I see, I disagree
Better before you're fine [unverified]
