Now listen up tonight, I know I'm in your eye.
You haven't looked away, you will be mine.
There's no point in being shy, your modesty is a lie.
You're pretending not to care and I keep catching your stare.

I know you're falling for me, faster than my beating heart.
Let's cut this war of eyes, and start a dance of lips. Oh yeah.

Oh you can't say you're not thinking the same.
I like the way you're moving,
Towards me from across the room.
I can't make you say "Baby, come this way." Come this way.

I know you're falling for me, faster than my beating heart.

Let's cut this war of eyes, and start a dance of lips. Oh yeah.

You start to, whisper words down my neck, they crawl and they crawl.
You take my breath away, you stare at me with such intensity.
You're holding me close, and you're not letting go, you're not letting go.

And this dance has begun.

I know you're falling for me, faster than my beating heart.

Let's cut this war of eyes, and start a dance of lips. Oh yeah
