I heard you were, just passing through
I never meant, to get attached to you
The day we met, I still hold on to
It was out of the blue, you played a show
And we locked eyes, by the stereo
I fell into, your eyes so blue

No matter how it goes, goes, goes
I just want you to know, know, know
I'm reminiscing
Thinking about us kissing
Now could you take, take, take
The million miles away, way, way
It's you missing, in this long distance

We keep in touch, though out of reach
I almost wish, we didn't meet
It's not enough, to keep a romance sweet
I was out of my mind, to let you in
I should have thought, of you as just a friend
But now you've got, me right until the end

No matter how it goes, goes, goes
I just want you to know, know, know
I'm reminiscing
Thinking about us kissing
Now could you take, take, take
The million miles away, way, way
It's you missing, in this long...

But it makes a good story anyway
All the memories created in one day
I guess they found a place to stay
So we're keeping up with this phone tag
Missing messages and signs that we're not okay
I just pretend you feel the same

No matter how it goes, goes, goes
I just want you to know, know, know
I'm reminiscing
Thinking about us kissing

Now could you take, take, take
The million miles away, way, way
It's you missing, in this long distance
