I saw you in your red car today
Wondering how you looked okay
And it seems to be fine
And you seem to be blind to this broken heart of mine
Your face is all over the place
Memories of you I can't replace
And I'm dying inside and I don't know how to hide
Believe me, I've tried

Maybe if you knew my pain
Maybe you'd feel the same
Maybe you'll cry my name
Every time I walked away
Would you..? Could you have trouble falling asleep?
If you knew what I'm going through
If I could only switch hearts with you

Switch hearts, switch hearts with you
Switch hearts, switch hearts with you

If you saw me in my white car today,
Would you tell me that you thought I looked okay?
Cause I'm not doing fine
And you seem to be blind to this broken heart of mine

Maybe if you knew my pain
Maybe you'd feel the same
Maybe you'll cry my name
Every time I walked away
Would you, could you have trouble falling asleep?
If you knew what I'm going through
If I could only switch hearts with you

Only then could you see my point of view
Only then could you see my shade of blue
Only then, only then, only then

Maybe if you knew my pain
Maybe you would feel the same
Maybe you'll cry my name
Every time I walked away...

Would you, could you have trouble falling asleep?
If you knew what I'm going through
If you knew what I'm going through
If I could only switch hearts with you

Switch hearts, switch hearts with you
Switch hearts, switch hearts with you

I saw you in your red car today
Wondering how you looked okay
