Stupid Mouth, please shut up
You're not winning any wars
I'm the one who's left behind
Cleaning up the mess you cause.

We could sit here for hours
Pressing close and sharing lines
Saying all the things we would do if we ever had the time.

Thinly veiled intentions flashing forward from your eyes
As you move on in and say, "Hey girl, You know its been a while"
Getting hard to put me back together every other night with the way that you undo me spinning circles in my mind.

It's getting hard to breathe
hard to be here alone without you
When every part of me is crying out
Oh you know I want you.
But words are not enough
to bring you home
to the arms I want to.
When everyone can see you're watching me
waiting for the next move.

Stupid Heart, please shut up
All our friends seem to agree when they say that we're in love
when we're just to blind to see.

Please don't stop when I say
how this game it wears you down.
Think I'm falling hard for you,
but you'll never hear the sound.

Fool me once and shame on you,
Fool me twice its what you'll do.
Two steps forward

now I'm taking ten more back.

And I don't think that you understand how much I want to hold your hand.
And how that scares me more than anything I know.

It's getting hard to breathe
hard to be here alone without you
When every part of me is crying out
Oh you know I want you.
But words are not enough
to bring you home
to the arms I want to.
When everyone can see you're watching me
waiting for the next move.
waiting for the next move.

And take your time, I know you will.
Leave me behind, to stay right here.
But you should know what you could lose,
if you don't make your move.

Stupid Boy, please shut up
Oh these words mean nothing now.
I'll be on a plane tonight
3000 miles above your town.

As I'm flying over your heart,
know you're resting here in mine.
and I'll be with him you know
It is you that's on my mind.

And here you come a knockin'
with your sad eyes at my door.
Telling me all of the reasons
this is not the way to go.

Moving back, you slowly whisper,
"This was not part of my plan."
As you pull me out and pull me close make me understand.

It's getting hard to breathe
hard to be here alone without you
When every part of me is crying out
Oh you know I want you.
But words are not enough
to bring you home
to the arms I want to.
When everyone can see you're watching me
waiting for the next move.

waiting for the next move.
