Why does the rain fall from the sky?
How can a sugar pill take this pain away?
I should have known that you would break my heart
You've ended something that didn't have a chance to start

Put out the stars, rub out the sky
Look into the future wipe the teardrop from my eye
Shut out the sun, put out the light
Want you to tell me how you're gonna make it right

Why am I crying over you?
Why? 'Cos there's nothing else that I can do
Why do I always look a fool?
Why?

Wish I'd read the sign, and left you well alone
God I wanna call you, but I can't pick up the phone

Put out the stars, rub out the sky
Look into the future wipe the teardrop from my eye
Shut out the sun, bring on that night
Want you to show me how you're gonna make it right

Why am I crying over you?
Why? 'Cos there's nothing else that I can do
Why do I always look a fool?
Why?

Tell me why?
Why am I crying over you?
(Why does the rain fall from the sky?)
Why? 'Cos there's nothing else that I can do
(Why do the tears fall from my eyes?)
Why do I always look a fool?
(Why does the rain fall from the sky?)
Why?
(Ohh tell me why)
(Tell me why?)

Why?
Why?

Why?
