Sign a name, sign away,
Every hour, every day
You're living your dream

Play the game, take the blame,
For the power and the fame
You're living your dream

Sell your life, sell your soul,
Telling everyone you know
You're living your dream

And You know that you're good
Cos they told you you could be
The next best superstar
And you know you can sing
And you'll do anything to be
The next best superstar
You're the next best superstar

Make a joke, do the show,
Where does all the money go,
You're living your dream

Crack a smile, in denial,
Throw your morals on the fire,
You're living your dream

Sell your life, sell your soul,
Tellin' everyone you know,
Your living your dream

And you know that you're good
Cos they told you you could be
The next best superstar
And you know you can sing
And you'll do anything to be
The next best superstar
You're the next best superstar

Ooooh

Now you're broken
Now they brought you down
Now your crawling out
You're the next best superstar

And you know that you're good
Cos they told you you could be
The next best superstar
And you know you can sing
And you'll do anything to be
The next best superstar
You're the next best superstar

You're gonna be, Yeah, (the next best superstar)
You're gonna be, Yeah, (the next best superstar)
The next best superstar, (the next best superstar)
