Past the devil's own temptation
Beyond where angels sleep
To the holy invocation
Of a neon city street

I feel your hand, I hold you
Through your eyes, I see
My love, wherever I go
I take you with me

Down the road of my desires
To the oceans of my peace
Through the fueling of my fires
Until my yearnings cease

I hear your voice, I know you
In your arms I sleep
My love, wherever I go
I take you with me

Even though I've fed my hunger
Even though I've named my fear
I'll never understand it
How the journey led me here

But I have made a promise
That I intend to keep
My love, wherever I go
I take you with me

Oh, oh, my love, wherever I go
Oh, I take you with me
My love, wherever I go
I take you with me

I take you with me
Oh, oh, take you with me
I take you with me
My love, my love, my love
