Seeking love I found a fire
A living fire coursing through my veins
I had arrived where I had started
Wishing I could do it all again

The beating of your heart
Should hurt no one
And love can only make you stronger

Closing my eyes I see the window
Across the wire I hear a laugh
You were broke I couldn't fix you
Now where is my army that cut you in half

The beating of your heart
Should hurt no one
And love can only make you stronger

And I can't take it any longer
I am just beginning to understand this truth

That you can't stop the wheel
Yeah, it just keeps on turning
And if you start a fire
You must endure the burning

The beating of your heart
The beating of your heart
The beating of your heart
Should hurt no one

The beating of your heart
Should hurt no one
And love can only make you stronger
