Well, I guess it wouldn't come as no surprise
When my heart's been broken at least a million times
If I gave it all up for good
There were times I thought I would but I never could

Cause I know it's out there, I've seen the signs
I refuse to think it's a lie

I believe in love that has no ending
Love is being real and not pretending
Could be I'm the king of wishful thinking
But I still believe in love

You can tell me it's all fairytales and dreams
By the way things look, yeah that's the way it seems
But the fact that it's hard to find
Don't mean it's all in my mind at least not to me

Cause I know it's out there, it has to be
And I know it's waiting for me

I believe in love that has no ending
Love is being real and not pretending
Could be I'm the king of wishful thinking
But I still believe in love

I believe in love that has no ending
Love is being real and not pretending
Could be I'm the king of wishful thinking
But I still believe in love

Soon, someday soon, the one will appear, for me
And I, oh-oh I will be waiting right here, you'll see

I believe in love that has no ending
Love is being real and not pretending (not pretending)
Could be I'm the king of wishful thinking (yeah)
But I still believe in love

I believe in love that has no ending
Love is being real and not pretending

Could be I'm the king of wishful thinking
But I still believe in love

Still believe in love
(Ah ah ah ah)
Still believe in love
(Ah ah ah ah)
I still believe
(Ah ah ah ah)
In love
But I still believe in love
