You see me running like I'm out of my mind
A cloud of worries staying close behind
A constant pain of working overtime
I'm just another face in another line
But there is hope to seek in times of madness
This day is almost done

When the night comes falling I'll be calling
We'll go crazy and spend our pay
As the sun is setting we're forgetting
Everything will be okey
Everything will be okey

Another day and I am done once more
I keep on working but don't know what for
A lot of effort for a tiny score
But none of this will matter when I'm gone for sure
But there is hope to seek in times of madness
'Cause time is on our side

When the night comes falling I'll be calling
We'll go crazy and spend our pay
As the sun is setting we're forgetting
Everything will be okey
Everything will be okey

It takes a dream to keep us alive
To keep us moving on
And though it seems we're just getting by
Together we're still strong (Together we're still strong)

When the night comes falling I'll be calling
We'll go crazy and spend our pay
As the sun is setting we're forgetting
Everything will be okey
(When the night comes falling I'll be calling)
The night will get you through the day
As the sun is setting we're forgetting
Everything will be okey
Everything will be okey
