Tell me it's all right
Tell me that's the sky
When I crawl
Don't look and stare

And now it's time to be afraid cause the brain raid Broke the barricade and the worst still to come chemical that left you stunned
And now your pacing the room, facing it soon fucking
with you
You won't have lived without your lesson

Fly kite
Can you fly into the sky

Your reminiscing of the days when you killed the king Poisoned from within Pulled the pin on thoughts you love
And you broke the 7th sin
And now your pacing the room, facing it soon fucking
with you
You won't have lived without your lesson

Don't let me go you're my life line never let you down
Always you appear at the right time
I love you with all my veins that explains why you run through

You can't stop the rush

Coming down makes me feel sick when I rush
I can feel you but you never felt the rush
Let me think about that for a second Let me be
