So I tried but over-compensated
I thought I'd never let you go
And it was complicated
I've heard it all before
So tie my hands around my back
And burn me from a distance, you'll see
I want to be there when you
Open up your eyes and see me

Now it's OK, let's try something new
Makes me wonder if you're still alive
Makes me hold on tight to the truth, yeah the truth.

It was time and I felt obligated
I'd fucking never let you go
Why am I so frustrated? I've heard it all before
So tie my hands around my back
And burn me from a distance, you'll see
I want to be there when you
Open up your eyes and see me

Now it's OK, let's try something new
Makes me wonder if you're still alive
Makes me hold on tight to the truth, yeah the truth
