(Dallas Frazier)

I've heard them say a heartache's just a memory
As soon as you forget it disappears
I tried but I can't hide my heart from misery
For I remember between each tear.

Between each tear I see a glimpse of yesterday
When love was happy like a little child that plays
I cry out loud for him but he's no longer here
To comfort me between each tear.

--- Instrumental ---

Between each tear I see a glimpse of yesterday
When love was happy like a little child that plays
I cry out loud for him but he's no longer here
To comfort me between each tear...
